Product Overview

Metal-TX is an herbal combination designed to help increase the body's eliminating abilities, especially with regards to heavy metal toxicity.

An estimated 25% of Americans currently suffer from heavy metal poisoning due to an increased exposure to toxic radiation. Everyone is exposed to toxic chemicals and heavy metals, and many of us are highly affected and unprotected. We are over-exposed to poisonous heavy metals such as mercury, lead, copper, aluminum, cadmium, and arsenic. There are also food additives, pesticides, dry cleaning residue, preservatives, carbon monoxide, and "cleaning" sprays through the use and proximity of household and industrial chemicals.

Many of us use household products that were once thought to be safe. Public awareness has increased with an understanding of the harsh chemicals and heavy metals associated with the use of these products. Exposure in the work environment has unwittingly put many people in harms way.

"Heavy metals" are particularly problematic since they can remain deep in our organs for an entire lifetime. These harmful poisons are known to wreak havoc with our metabolic systems and are linked to many weakened conditions and diseases such as ADD, AHDD, Arthritis, and Alzheimer's Disease. The most publicized of these conditions is Alzheimer's Disease, suspected to be caused by an accumulation of aluminum found in drinking water, cookware, antiperspirant and even baking soda. Research has also found a link between heavy metals and Autism.

Cleansing and detoxifying our bodies is imperative. Metal-TX contains herbs and minerals known for their ability to chelate (bond with) heavy metals thereby detoxifying, revitalizing, and toning the body. Metal-TX supports the body in its removal of toxic metals and metal compounds. This unique combination of herbs can have a cleansing effect on the liver and other eliminative organs, giving our bodies a chance to rest and clear out these accumulated toxins.
